From the April 2020 reviews of nonprofit accounting systems.

Aplos Nonprofit Software offers complete fund accounting capability and is well-suited for small to mid-sized nonprofit organizations. As an added convenience, Aplos works on both Windows and Mac platforms. Aplos also offers Aplos Advanced Accounting, which integrates with the nonprofit application to provide more comprehensive fund accounting capabilities.

The latest version of Aplos offers numerous system additions and enhancements including the ability to attach files to A/R, A/P, journal entries, and bank reconciliations. The bank integration option has been enhanced to reduce errors, handles a variety of transaction types including the ability to create invoices, post payments, pay vendors, create customer statements, and handle bank reconciliations. Aplos also offers good budgeting capability, including the option to create a budget vs. actual report. Both current and upcoming year budgets can be created, including the ability to create a budget for up to three years.

Aplos Fundraising Center is a good option for nonprofits that depend on donations, allowing users to easily manage all online donations, manage new donors, and display a total of both engaged and lapsed donors. Pledges can be managed in Aplos, and events created and managed from the fundraising center. Aplos also includes complete CRM capability, making it easy to add a new contact, add a contact to a group or team, and create various lists.

Aplos does not offer automatic Due to/Due from capability, but does include easy fund transfer capability. The product also includes excellent multi-level security, with all users assigned access depending on their role.

Aplos offers good reporting options including general accounting reports along with
