Advisors Can Monitor Clients' Financial Performance with All-in-One Financial Analysis and Budgeting Software that Integrates With QuickBooks and all Major Accounting Software Packages.

Aug. 08, 2011

August 8, 2011 – CHANHASSEN, MN – ProfitSee, the provider of all-in-one visual financial analysis and forecasting software from proven financial experts, today announced the release of ProfitSee Pro, a new software solution that gives financial advisors and CPAs real-time oversight of clients' key business metrics.

Named "Best in Show" at the 2010 Intuit Partner Platform Cloud Jam, ProfitSee serves business owners and their financial advisors with critical financial insights to manage cash flow, analyze financial results, construct budgets, and accurately understand and plan for the impact of growth initiatives. With the release of ProfitSee Pro, CPAs and financial advisors can tap into their clients' financials, getting an instant dashboard view of financial performance. This new ProfitSee software version offers a valuable tool that allows CPAs and financial advisors to monitor and proactively counsel clients.

"ProfitSee Pro is a game changer for CPAs and financial advisors to small business and a real value-add for business owners," says Peter M. Vessenes, founder and CEO of ProfitSee. "The ability to spot trouble before it gets out of hand, or an opportunity before it passes, puts financial advisors in a proactive position and dramatically enhances the value they bring to clients."

ProfitSee offers an integrated suite of visual reports, budgeting tools and "what if" scenarios to help businesses forecast the full effects of business decisions. More than 20 years in the making by experienced financial experts, ProfitSee provides forward-looking scenarios that are easy for business owners and financial decision makers to quickly understand and act upon. With the release of its version targeted at financial
