Following customer feedback, Xero has brought users a cloud-based payroll and accounting solutions that's accessible anytime from anywhere. Professionals and small business owners use RUN Powered by ADP to manage their employees' time and payroll. The payroll data can then be sent securely to Xero as a journal for download. Users can also access payroll reports online.

"ADP is a leader in the industry and this integration provides a powerful combination of online payroll and online accounting for small businesses across North America," said Jamie Sutherland, President of U.S. Operations, Xero. "Xero and ADP customers will both benefit from the power of a truly comprehensive online platform that delivers anytime, anywhere financial management."

The integration between Xero and RUN Powered by ADP will allow tax and accounting professionals to better serve their clients, as they are able to collaborate online with clients concerning their business' finances and payroll. Small business owners will now have a better look at their real-time financial situation with the ability to integrate payroll and accounting.
