

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

CPAs across North Carolina will take to their communities on Friday, September 21, 2012, for the first-ever CPA Day of Service. Sponsored by the state's CPA society, individual professionals, firms and groups will join forces to give back to charitable organizations of their choice.

“The public may not always know much about CPAs beyond yearly taxes, and I feel this event is a fantastic way to highlight all that is good about the profession and association,” says 2011–12 NCACPA Acting Chair Debbie Lambert. “September 21 will be a day for CPAs across the state to join together and give back to the communities in which we live, work, and play. These communities have given so much to us; now,

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us association. The association currently serves as the voice of more than 13,000 members in North Carolina. Every day CPAs serve their communities as trusted business advisors to companies and individuals; CPA Day of Service allows these same professionals to serve in other ways.

CPA Practice Advisor is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors.

© 2024 Firmworks, LLC. All rights reserved