CCH Small Firm Services recently announced that it is extending access to its training and Continuing Education courses to all tax and accounting professionals. Previously, the webinars and live seminars were only available to ATX and TaxWise users. CCH SFS, a Wolters Kluwer business, provides tax and accounting solutions to small professional firms.

“As a longtime education provider, SFS supplies training and CE to over 42,000 ATX and TaxWise users,” said Rusty Tillman, Vice President of Customer Experience for CCH SFS. “This year, we’ve opened our events to the entire industry to help preparers from all over meet their learning needs.”

CCH SFS course offerings include Form W-7 and Applying for an ITIN, How Foreclosure, Cancellation of Debt and Bankruptcy Affect Your Tax Return and the Basic Income Tax web series. The company also offers its RTRP Exam Prep Workshop to assist preparers with ensuring they meet the IRS RTRP requirements.

“We’ve had great feedback on our RTRP Exam Prep Workshop, achieving a 100 percent net promoter score,” said Amy Winkle, EA, CCH SFS Training Manager. “And customers can earn multiple RTRP CE hours by attending our live GetWise or ATX Seminars.”

CCH SFS has been approved by NASBA, CTEC and the IRS for their CPE courses over the past several years and partners with the American Institute of Professional Bookkeepers to offer preparations services for the Certified Bookkeeper exam.

“Our quality courses meet the highest standards for instructor-led training,” added Winkle. “We strive to always provide the best learning experience possible and cover important topics affecting the profession.”
