Greater Mobile Access to e-Filed Returns, Client Data

Nov. 05, 2012

CCH will have two new mobile Apps for tax season to help professionals serve their clients better than ever – anytime and from anywhere. The new Mobile Electronic Filing Status (ELF) App enhances the ability to easily monitor the status of e-filed tax returns from a smartphone or tablet. And, with the new ProSystem fx Mobile App, professionals can quickly connect to client databases while working out of the office. Both mobile Apps will be available for free downloads by the end of 2012 on Apple iPhone, iPad and Android devices. CCH, a Wolters Kluwer business is a leading global provider of tax, accounting and audit information, software and services (CCHGroup.com).

“These new applications are the next steps in the natural progression of leveraging advanced technology to increase mobility and flexibility for tax and accounting professionals – so they can serve their clients from wherever they may be,” said Angela Askew, CCH Product Manager.

Mobile Electronic Filing Status (ELF) App

With the advanced flexibility of the ELF App, professionals can easily monitor the status of a client's e-filed tax return. Getting an instant update is now as simple as tapping the ELF App icon to get things started. Simple navigation and colorful visuals enable tax professionals to quickly receive news on whether an e-filed return has been accepted or rejected by the IRS.

“You could be at a soccer game and open the ELF App to assist clients in ways that previously had to be done at the firm,” said Askew. “Instead of taking time to power up a laptop and log in to your firm's network, using the ELF App is a much more digital environment.

Data is securely stored on CCH servers – protecting clients and firms 24/7. ProSystem fx Mobile also lets professionals access their ProSystem fx Practice Intelligence content but will soon expand to include other ProSystem fx Suite products and information.

The ProSystem fx Mobile App also connects tax and accounting professionals with CCH's premier content, journals, the latest tax news updates and information through the industry's leading research platform, CCH IntelliConnect for faster answers and better results.

ProSystem fx Mobile is also an extension of a CCH customer's ProSystem fx Suite, enabling users to retrieve information from ProSystem fx Tax, ProSystem fx Document and other solutions.

Both Apps are extensions of the CCH Mobile advanced technology platform. Each one is available for the upcoming tax season to provide professionals with greater flexibility and opportunities to work how and when they want to better serve clients.
