Cloud9 Real Time, provider of virtual office solutions, recently announced it will be the hosting provider for AccountingDepartment.com. The exclusive partnership will allow AccountingDepartment.com to deliver a secure portal to clients across the country. AccountingDepartment.com offers virtual outsourced accounting services for small and mid-sized businesses.

“The Cloud9 team is excited to service the staff and clients of the AccountingDepartment.com,” said Kacee Johnson, Executive Vice President of Cloud9 Real Time. “Their model is unlike any other and they have really paved the way for what virtual accounting should look like for small- to medium-sized business owners. Their users are going to get the fastest application delivery with advanced backup features and security to ensure the best possible experience.”

Through the new hosting agreement, AccountingDepartment.com's clients will have anytime, anywhere access to documents, seamless integration with over 80 applications, automatic off-site backups performed daily, a disaster recovery plan and full IT management.

“With the response from our staff and clients, we know we made the best decision choosing Cloud9 Real Time to host us and take us into our future growth plans,” said Bill Gerber, AccountingDepartment.com co-founder.
