

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us software.

Taija Sparkman • Dec. 07, 2012

THOMSON REUTERS

The Tax & Accounting business of Thomson Reuters recently released a series of enhancements to its Workpapers CS software. New features include enhancements to the software's document handling and workflow, image capture capabilities and digital annotation.

Users of Workpapers CS can collaborate in real-time while managing documents from several sources. Workpapers CS also allows professionals to perform trial balance calculations and view workpapers in a tree structure with review notes and signoff notations.

“With Workpapers CS, we’re building out the digital infrastructure that is enabling accounting firms to operate efficiently in a completely digital world,” said Scott Fleszar, Vice President, Strategic Marketing, Tax & Accounting, Thomson Reuters. “The digital environment needs to be as intuitive as operating on paper but with far greater efficiency. Workpapers CS provides the functionality to make that happen.”

With the enhancements to the solution, tax and accounting professionals have even more paperless capabilities. New enhancements include the ability to create PDF files from images captured from mobile device cameras; trial balance integration with

Microsoft Excel; the ability to add tick marks, stamps and text to PDF files; the ability

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

Technology

CPA Practice Advisor is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors.

© 2024 Firmworks, LLC. All rights reserved