

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us electronically for the 2012 tax year this week, despite the delay until Jan 30 for federal 1040 returns. Taxpayers using the combined Federal/State e-file service will need to wait until the end of the month.

Jan. 12, 2013

Pennsylvania residents who file personal income tax returns were able to begin filing electronically for the 2012 tax year this week, despite the delay until Jan 30 for federal 1040 returns. Taxpayers using the combined Federal/State e-file service will need to wait until the end of the month.

Nearly 76 percent of Pennsylvania's 6.2 million personal income tax returns were filed electronically in 2012, according to the state's Department of Revenue. In addition to being more convenient for taxpayers, "e-filing" generates processing cost savings for the state.

The state's free electronic filing options include PAdirectfile and TeleFile (1-888-4PAFILE), and are currently available through the department's web site at www.revenue.state.pa.us. These services are generally focused on individuals with simple taxation scenarios.

Taxpayers who filed a return last year may file by phone with TeleFile by simply providing a Social Security number and five-digit ZIP Code. To file using padirectfile, each taxpayer will need to provide a Social Security number and one of the following: 2011 or 2010 tax liability; PA driver's license or identification number; or a registered e-signature account with the department.

The department reminds all taxpayers who received more than $33 in total gross taxable income in 2012 that they are obligated to file Pennsylvania personal income tax returns by April 15. Taxpayers with annual incomes of $35,000 or less may also visit a Revenue district office, listed in the blue pages of local phone directories, for

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

Income Tax • Taxes

CPA Practice Advisor is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors.

© 2024 Firmworks, LLC. All rights reserved