partners in 2012. Avalara provides sales tax and compliance automation solutions in the cloud.

Taija Sparkman • Jan. 28, 2013

Avalara recently announced it added 60 new Original Equipment Manufacturer partners in 2012. Avalara provides sales tax and compliance automation solutions in the cloud.

With the additional 60, Avalara now has 220 total OEM partners, who directly integrate AvaTax into the software that they publish. AvaTax currently integrates into a range of accounting and business solutions, delivering accurate sales tax calculations quickly to customers using any computer operating system. The integrations also create selling opportunities for Avalara's Channel Partner program. The Channel Partner program provides financial incentives, sales tools, marketing resources, training and sales and technical support to organizations that resell financial, ecommerce, mobile commerce, point-of-sale and other technology solutions.

"Today's announcement underscores Avalara's commitment to serve businesses of all sizes by providing innovative, integrated solutions online, on location and on-the-go," said Pascal Van Dooren, EVP Sales & Marketing at Avalara. "Additionally, it further enables our value-added reseller partners to better serve their customers and prospects, while simultaneously expanding their service offerings."

Avalara added the following OEM partners in 2012:

ERP/Retail

Microsoft Dynamics AX for ERP, a complete ERP solution for enterprises

Microsoft Dynamic AX for Retail, a seamless solution for multi-channel management, store operations, merchandising, and enterprise resource planning

QAD, an online ERP solution created for global manufacturing companies
