ARLINGTON, Va., — Bloomberg BNA has launched the International Payroll Decision Support Network. This new membership-based service combines Bloomberg BNA's custom research offerings with a collection of new global payroll products and resources accessible to subscribers online.

Similar to other Bloomberg BNA Decision Support Network services, the International Payroll Decision Support Network serves customers' needs by offering key guidance and expert insight into the primary challenges payroll professionals around the globe face. With the launch of this new service, organizations with overseas operations and payroll functions now have an all-in-one solution for their payroll departments.

The Network includes access to a variety of Bloomberg BNA services, including in-depth country primers, strategic white papers, 12 live webinar conferences per year, vertical search technology bringing customers the latest global HR and payroll information, and breaking news alerts delivered via email or the web. The popular custom research component provides customers with the opportunity to ask specific global payroll questions and receive written reports from Bloomberg BNA's team of experts.

"Our customers have demanded coverage of international payroll issues and we've developed a comprehensive solution unlike any other," said HR & Payroll Group Publisher Robert Shew. "We're excited to be able to provide this Network to our clients, with a wide range of services that will expand the resources they have to help
