Manufacturing Information Systems (MISys) Inc., a developer of manufacturing software, and Intacct, a maker of cloud financial management and accounting software, have partnered to deliver a comprehensive manufacturing system for mid-sized businesses.

As part of the new relationship, MISys has integrated MISys Manufacturing with Intacct's cloud financial applications. MISys Manufacturing has also been added to the Intacct Marketplace, a growing repository of integrated, complementary applications available to extend the value of the Intacct system.

MISys Manufacturing enables manufacturers to efficiently manage their production related activities so they can grow and be profitable. The integration of MISys Manufacturing with Intacct enables manufacturers to leverage Intacct's best-in-class accounting software with a proven solution for their complex manufacturing needs, allowing them to:

- Reduce inventory levels and related carrying costs by 25-30%
- Save time and reduce errors in purchasing materials
- Deliver products on-time by managing production schedules more accurately
- Improve gross margin by setting prices using actual production costs
- Share timely, accurate information between both their manufacturing and accounting systems

"This is the first time we've integrated MISys Manufacturing with a cloud-based accounting system," said Dave Brown, MISys CEO. "As more and more mid-sized companies adopt cloud accounting, Intacct was a natural partner to help us reach those companies. The integrated system provides an attractive solution to mid-sized
