comprehensive sales tax rate and taxability tables to help millions of Americans prepare their tax returns.

Jul. 17, 2013

For the ninth straight year, CCH has been selected by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) to deliver comprehensive sales tax rate and taxability tables to help millions of Americans prepare their tax returns. CCH, a part of Wolters Kluwer is a leading provider of tax, accounting and audit information, software and services (CCHGroup.com).

“It’s an honor to be selected again by the IRS and a tribute to everyone on the CCH team who works very hard on our sales tax solutions to generate reliable, updated rate and taxability information for every ZIP Code in the country,” said Scott Gruchot, CCH Vice President & General Manager, Corporate Services. “Delivering valuable multi-jurisdictional sales tax information gives us the opportunity to directly support millions of taxpayers and tax professionals who regularly integrate our solutions into their daily workflow, enabling them to make informed decisions based on the latest CCH tax data.”

Pinpoint Tax Rate Location Accuracy

Taxpayers will continue to have access to granular tax districts rather than full-city tax rates. The ability to pinpoint specific municipal sales tax rates provides a higher degree of accuracy and enhances the taxpayer experience by allowing users to precisely identify their tax jurisdictions.

Data for Convenient Tax Return Preparations

Information for IRS tables, used by taxpayers to determine optional sales tax deductions for income tax returns, is generated from several CCH workflow tools,

These average amounts represent a “standard market basket” of consumer expenditures.

Taxpayers relying on these IRS tables can conveniently determine whether to deduct their state and local sales tax versus their state and local income tax – without having to save all their receipts throughout the year to tally sales tax that was actually paid.

In addition to providing data for the Sales Tax Deduction Calculator, CCH is also supplying the IRS with data related to the taxability rules for more than 500 Bureau of Labor Statistics spending categories.
