2013 Women to Watch Award, in recognition of their notable contributions to the accounting profession, their organizations and the development of women as leaders.

Oct. 24, 2013

The Illinois CPA Society has announced that four of its members will receive the 2013 Women to Watch Award, in recognition of their notable contributions to the accounting profession, their organizations and the development of women as leaders.

The ninth annual Women to Watch Award will be presented to recipients at ICPAS' Women's Leadership Breakfast on Friday, November 15. Following the award presentation, recipients will also take part in a panel discussion about balancing work and life outside of the office, supervising multiple generations and supporting the advancement of women in the accounting profession.

Honorees fall in two categories: Experienced Leader and Emerging Leader. This year's recipients are:

Experienced Leader Category:

Dawn Eber, CPA, is a Managing Director in PricewaterhouseCooper's (PwC) Risk Assurance practice. She focuses on Internal Audit and Compliance within several industries. As head of the firm's Chief Audit Executives Roundtable series she provides opportunities for collaboration on emerging and core issues to Chief Audit Executives. She continues to make significant contributions to her community with her involvement at Feed My Starving Children (FMSC), including her time as Chair of the Chicago Council and as a member of the Board of Directors since 2007. She was instrumental in spearheading efforts to open all three FMSC sites since 2006. Ms. Eber is also a member of ICPAS, AICPA and IIA.
