

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

Public Accountants (NJSCPA), collected more than 2,800 pounds of food during its annual September to November food drive to benefit the Community FoodBank of New Jersey.

Dec. 02, 2013

The New Jersey Young CPAs, a membership segment of the New Jersey Society of Certified Public Accountants (NJSCPA), collected more than 2,800 pounds of food during its annual September to November food drive to benefit the Community FoodBank of New Jersey.

Also, 38 Young CPAs spent two days in November volunteering their time at the FoodBank's facility, placing pasta into individual family-sized bags.

"It's often easy to take for granted the good fortune in our lives," says Melissa Soranno, CPA. "Volunteering at the Community FoodBank of NJ gave me the opportunity to share some good fortune with, and help fill a basic need for, members of the community who need it most."

The NJSCPA thanks the Society members, chapters and committees that gave so generously to help those in need, as well as the 15 accounting firms across New Jersey that acted as collection points for food donations.

Accounting • Firm Management • Income Tax

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us