highlighting resources to help accounting professionals stay on top of critical payroll, tax, and HR issues that could impact their small business clients.

Feb. 06, 2014

With tax season in full swing, payroll and human resources provider Paychex, Inc. is highlighting resources to help accounting professionals stay on top of critical payroll, tax, and HR issues that could impact their small business clients.

“At Paychex, we understand that tax season is a busy time for accountants and that remaining up-to-date on client-facing issues can be especially challenging at this time of the year,” says Andrew Childs, vice president of marketing at Paychex. “Our tools are specifically designed to serve accountants both in the office and on-the-go.”

Paychex's accountant resources include:

2014 Online U.S. Master Tax Guide

This free guide, powered by CCH, reflects federal taxation changes that affect 2013 returns. It provides answers to tax-related questions and explanations of new rules established by court decisions and the IRS. Through the Paychex Accountant Knowledge Center you can access the guide online and see new information added daily.
