the company rapidly expands its customer base and further cements its leadership in enterprise and international markets.

Feb. 25, 2014

Adaptive Planning, a provider of cloud business analytics for companies and nonprofits of all sizes, is celebrating exceptional growth and industry leadership by rebranding as Adaptive Insights. The new name and brand reflect Adaptive's broad and innovative product suite as the company rapidly expands its customer base and further cements its leadership in enterprise and international markets.

"Adaptive Insights represents the evolution of our company and our dominance in the market. We have catapulted past our original planning solution to provide a complete, integrated corporate performance management (CPM) and business intelligence (BI) suite," said John Herr, CEO, Adaptive Insights. "Whether companies are currently using Excel or legacy software solutions, Adaptive's powerful yet intuitive solutions provide finance and management teams with new insights to accelerate growth and drive success. The rebrand tops off an exceptional year full of customer, product, partner and operational wins. And our first new product release this year, Adaptive Suite 2014.1, makes our #1-ranked user experience even better—further extending our lead in the market."

The rebrand comes as Adaptive continues to deliver on its strategy to address the complete planning, consolidation, analytics, and reporting needs of mid-sized and enterprise organizations around the world. The vibrant new logo and color scheme communicate the company's bold, highly-differentiated solutions—powerful, innovative, and intuitive products coupled with industry-leading service and support. The corporate identity also includes design elements from the new class-leading user interface and business collaboration capabilities available in the company's latest release, Adaptive Suite 2014.1, also announced today.

Amidst the new brand, Adaptive Insights is experiencing exceptional momentum

- Mobile First Design. Whether budgeting and planning using a tablet or a desktop, the new Adaptive Suite user experience is optimized for all of the ways business users work. Planning, reporting and analysis are always available to managers.
- Most Collaborative CPM Yet. Adaptive Insights expands its groundbreaking social and collaborative Process Tracker to encompass planning and budgeting, including tracking of tasks, complete with threaded collaborative notes, document attachments, and visual tracking of workflow tasks. It provides the most advanced collaboration around the full CPM process from anywhere – web or mobile.
- Even More Modeling Power. Advanced organization management raises the bar for cloud planning sophistication, by combining the flexibility of powerful version management with organization management, making it simple to store alternative or historical views, all in one single planning model – ideal for analyzing and modeling results based on different and changing organizations and projects.

“Our managers and analysts already access Adaptive Planning from 50+ locations across North America. Driving mobility and collaboration means that they can even more effectively plan and model from anywhere, and together we're tracking and collaborating around where we are in the cycle,” said Rodney Engel, Director of Performance Control at GDF Suez North America.

Powerful Partners

In 2013, Adaptive Insights expanded its global presence to 100 countries, thanks in part to the strength of its partner community. The Adaptive Insights channel partner program continues to play a key role in the company's growth, most notably in the midmarket and enterprise arenas. In 2013, 100 percent of partners jumped to gold status, which is based on revenue generation. Also notable is that Adaptive Insights'

20 highest performing partners expanded Adaptive sales by an average of 37 percent.
