100 percent cloud-based, Aplos requires no product installation, a plus for small nonprofits with limited staff. The main user interface contains several tabs listed vertically on the left side of the screen: Dashboard, Settings, Accounts, Transactions, Contacts, and Reports. Rather than continuing as an App-based system, Aplos made the transition to inclusive software, with two components: Accounting and Donor Management.

The accounting function includes complete fund accounting functionality, a fully customizable chart of accounts, and a bank reconciliation function that can download banking transaction details directly into the system. The accounting function also includes complete AR and AP functionality. The Aplos data entry screens are designed for ease of use, and they contain lookup options that are available by clicking in the data field.

Aplos also offers new users a free webinar to assist them in setting up the system. The Donor Management component can be used as a standalone product or in conjunction with the Accounting component to create a complete financial and donor management system. Aplos can run on either Windows or Mac platforms, and is compatible with most Internet browsers.

A contacts database contained in Aplos tracks all online donations received through the Donor Management component, which allows users to quickly create an online donor form that will link to campaign emails, social media, and can link to a business website.

Complete integration with Aplos Accounting means that all data entered into the online donation form is recorded in the Aplos Accounting as well. The Donor Management component also offers complete donor management, with the ability to record detailed information on donors using user-defined fields. Users can also quickly create monthly giving statements that include both donations and pledges for easy tracking.
