The global tax services firm Ryan has acquired TransAmerican Asset Servicing Group, LLC, a market leader in unclaimed property services based in Elmsford, New York. The acquisition adds a team of highly qualified abandoned and unclaimed property (AUP) experts specializing in search and location services for leading financial institutions and other major corporations.

A key strategic component in the transaction is TransAmerican's proven proprietary workflow technology system for efficient management of the entire lifecycle for identifying lost holders and reuniting them with their property. This acquisition will drive the continued growth of Ryan's rapidly expanding AUP Search and Location business. It also adds service capabilities and market share to Ryan's AUP practice, unclaimed property consulting services that include search and location, escheat management, risk mitigation, and regulatory compliance. Under the leadership of Chief Operating Officer Edward Agabs, the company became a significant player in the search and location services space.

"As the preeminent AUP practice in the country, we are thrilled to welcome the talented team at TransAmerican to support our continued growth," said Mark A. Paolillo, Ryan Principal and Abandoned and Unclaimed Property Practice Leader. "This positions Ryan's AUP practice as the only true end-to-end provider of unclaimed property services that include advisory, compliance reporting, asset recovery, and the industry-leading Tracker software application."
