AccountantsWorld, a provider of cloud-based solutions for accountants, has added new integration with Ledgersync into its five-star rated Accounting Power software. The Ledgersync integration turns traditionally low-margin write-up work into a highly profitable service, while also significantly reducing workload for accountants.

After-the-fact write-up engagements take up 20 to 40 percent of accountants' time, according to AccountantsWorld's system usage data. With the Ledgersync integration, accountants can minimize the labor-intensive write-up work and experience benefits like:

- Reduced workload: the new feature automatically classifies transactions to the relevant accounts for accountants.
- Streamlined workflow: all bank and credit card transactions, canceled check images and bank statements can be accessed within the Accounting Power platform.

- Increased profit margins and efficiency: by eliminating time-consuming, manual

“Ledgersync is best utilized by professional systems like Accounting Power that accountants find ideal for their write-up work,” said Maurice Berdugo, CEO of Ledgersync. “Until now, accountants had to close the books for most write-up clients during the peak of the tax season, which made tax season very stressful. We are truly excited to collaborate with AccountantsWorld as Ledgersync’s integration with Accounting Power gives accountants the ability to spread their write-up work throughout the year, making tax season far less stressful.”

Accountants are praising the impact of the AccountantsWorld-Ledgersync integration:

- “Accounting Power’s bank feed feature has greatly improved the efficiency and effectiveness of our accounting processes. The process of connecting to financial institutions and downloading transactions is much faster and more accurate compared to traditional bookkeeping methods of the past.” – George Magas, a CPA based in Damascus, Maryland.
- “The bank feeds feature of Accounting Power is truly revolutionary. Our office has become more efficient as a direct result of this feature, allowing us more time to focus on advising our clients and less time wasted on data entry.” – Salem Najjar, CPA of Complete Financial Services, Inc.
