5) Being selected to be the forensic accountant on a Ponzi scheme civil and criminal investigation/case very shortly after starting my Firm.

Financial literacy across all socioeconomic groups is abysmal. Our society, schools, and community have not emphasized this topic. Therefore, I have focused my time instructing on financial literacy for woman and business owners, as these groups have the largest impact on the communities around them. I teach for:

- The Woman's Resource of Greater Houston, a financial literacy non-profit,
- OwlSpark, Rice University's Entrepreneurship Accelerator,
- TMCx, Texas Medical Center's Entrepreneurship Accelerator,
- RedLabs, University of Houston's Entrepreneurship Accelerator, and as a
- Part Time Faculty, Lilie Entrepreneurship Institute at Rice University Business School

Favorite influencer(s) (authors, bloggers, mentors, speakers, etc.)

Muhammad Yunus (<http://www.muhammadyunus.org/>): The first time I heard of the concept of microcredit lending, I was blown away. Later, his concept of social business was the most revolutionary change in the concept of business that I am aware of in recent history. Several years ago, he spoke at the Rice Commencement, and I was fortunate enough go to his book signing. Of course, I slipped and fell in the rain while headed to meet him, which is a hazard when you are the only one in line that was giddy like you would be when meeting a rock-star!
