Christy is very dedicated to doing all that she can to help her clients by working hard and completing tasks quickly, efficiently and correctly. Her A+ personality type drives all facets of her life, making everything she does a passion for her.

What technology or business process does Christy see affecting the tax and accounting profession in the next five years?

“The implementation of the e-file system regulations has caused a reduction of many of the ‘old school’ professionals. The introductions of accountants’ remote access software, Lacerte’s interfacing with QuickBooks and the new age of the clients’ abilities within their own structures to process their bookkeeping easier and without as many errors in deliverance to the tax professionals, is making our industry grow faster and more inviting everyday. As of now, and with much exponential growth factors, we will be able to sit at our desks and complete returns from around the world, as well as generate all financial statements three states over within the client's
