WORKFLOW FOR TAX PROFESSIONALS

Coppanion has announced an alliance with Intuit Inc. to develop a scanning solution that will dramatically increase the productivity of tax professionals by helping to simplify their workflow.

Nov. 17, 2008

ANDOVER, MA, November 17, 2008 – Coppanion, an innovator in tax document automation, today announced an alliance with Intuit Inc. (Nasdaq: INTU) to develop a scanning solution that will dramatically increase the productivity of tax professionals by helping to simplify their workflow. Intuit announced today its new Intuit Document eSort, powered by Coppanion's award-winning tax document recognition technology, as a result of the alliance.

Intuit Document eSort powered by Coppanion is designed to expedite the time-consuming processes of scanning, identifying, and organizing client tax documents. It offers seamless integration with Lacerte, Lacerte DMS, ProSeries, and ProSeries DMS software. The solution will dramatically increase the productivity of tax professionals by helping to simplify their workflow.

"Intuit has always been laser-focused on providing products and services to solve customer problems," said Jill Ward, senior vice president and general manager, Accounting Professionals Division, Intuit. "With Document eSort, we're increasing end-to-end productivity across accounting professionals' most critical tasks. Our efforts with Coppanion have enabled us to provide users with a new solution that offers best-in-class tax document automation capabilities."

The two companies have worked together to make tax professionals more productive through increased accuracy and speed in identifying and organizing thousands of client tax documents that a practitioner handles every year. Intuit Document eSort delivers on that vision by tightly integrating Copanion technology in the tax
