

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

From the June 2010 Review of Document Management Systems.

As with many technology initiatives, implementing a document management system requires a supporting cast of characters to help make the solution complete. So we thought it would be helpful to identify a few of the accessories that can help you optimize the deployment of your DMS. You should visit these vendors' websites to learn more about the solutions they offer.

ABBYY — WWW.ABBYY.COM

Abbyy is a company that specializes in developing and distributing document recognition and linguistic technologies. If you're curious about the origin of the company name, it comes from the Sino-Tibetan language and translates to "keen eye," reflecting the company's focus on processing information that originates in paper documents and electronic images.

The list of specialty applications Abbyy offers is too lengthy to detail here. However, some of the specific tools that you may find useful in your DMS deployment include the following: Abbyy Fine Reader (OCR application that converts image files into editable text), Abbyy PDF Transformer (provides an alternative to Adobe Acrobat as a tool to create PDF files), and Abby Scan To Office (application that converts scanned images into editable MS Word and Excel files).

KOFAX — WWW.KOFAX.COM

Kofax is another company that specializes in technologies to enable the processing of data captured through scanned documents, faxes and other electronic images by converting them into machine readable text. Its most popular application is Kofax VRS (Virtual ReScan.) This software takes scanned document images and analyzes the content of the document so that it can be “cleaned up.”

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us has helped Fujitsu establish itself as a leader in this market is the fact that it has scanners that are top sellers at all levels of the scanner market — portable, desktop, workgroup and commercial. One of the company's most popular models is the portable ScanSnap device. This is a practical and affordable desktop scanner for personal scanning that supplements your workgroup scanners.

NUANCE — WWW.NUANCE.COM

The name Nuance aptly applies to this company. They offer dozens of applications that specialize in document image processing and speech recognition. Examples of some of their products include the following: PDF Converter 6 which lets you create, edit and convert PDF files; OmniPage OCR software; and Nuance Recognizer V9 speech recognition software, which facilitates the process of capturing speech as an input method and interpreting it to execute a workflow. Think about when you call into a company and you have to answer a series of recorded questions that you respond to in order to determine how your call is routed. It is likely we'll see speech recognition software play a bigger role in our workflow automation because, for a lot of us, talking is a whole lot easier than typing.

XCM SOLUTIONS — WWW.XCMSOLUTIONS.COM

One of the key attributes we evaluate in our review of DMS solutions is the inclusion of workflow functionality. Workflow software means a lot of different things, but essentially it is about the functionality that lets you manage the flow of engagements in a paperless environment. XCM distinguishes itself as a developer of workflow software that is not dependent on any one DMS solution. The company offers two workflow solutions: XCM and XCM Essentials. Both applications are designed by a team of tax and accounting professionals and are offered as web-hosted solutions. XCM is a robust workflow application that provides

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

CPA Practice Advisor is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors.

© 2024 Firmworks, LLC. All rights reserved