

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

A case study with Schnarner, Knight, Minnaugh & Company, P.C.

Oct. 24, 2011

Confirmation.

Like many firms that use paper audit confirmations, the risk of human error is a potential problem. Ensuring confirmations are prepared correctly, sent and received in a timely fashion require precious billable hours that could be better spent performing the audit. Looking to save time and reduce costs, learn how this firm discovered a simple low-cost solution that can help reduce the risk of human error, while saving time and effort.

CPA Practice Advisor is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors.

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us