I say Crest, you think toothpaste. But as an accounting professional, there's another Crest you might want to check out. Crest Payroll, offered by New Jersey-based Paramount Software, received one of our highest scores in our most recent review of payroll systems for professionals.

The completely web-based system doesn't nickle and dime firms, but gives everything and the kitchen sink: any number of payroll runs for any number of clients and employees, automated compliance and reporting (they make the payments- with no impounding), client portals, employee portals, multi-account direct deposit, free online firm-branded payroll website, and more- all included for as little as $12 per client per month.

They also just announced the addition of several new features, which you can read about here.

And one last thing- there's a free 1-hour CPE credit webcast this Thursday (Nov. 17 at 2pm ET) on the advantages of web-based professional payroll. There will be drawings for both an iPad2 and a Win7 laptop.

You can register for the webcast at:
