

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

THOMSON REUTERS

The Tax & Accounting business of Thomson Reuters released a mobile app for the myPay Solutions software. The mobile app grants mobile access to payroll information for employees of current myPay Solutions clients.

With the app, employees can enter time for the current pay period and view time entered for previous pay periods right from their Apple or Android mobile device. Employees can also use the app to update w-4 information and view check stubs, W-2s and W-4 information.

The new app is designed for today's mobile workplace, which has increasingly fewer geographical boundaries and limitations, said Scott Fleszar, vice president, strategic marketing, Tax & Accounting, Thomson Reuters.

"The small to medium-sized businesses that use myPay Solutions need maximum flexibility, and this is another way for us to provide it," said Fleszar. "I think the myPay Solutions mobile app is going to do a lot to increase flexibility and productivity for employees who work from home, travel, or just appreciate the convenience of being able to work anytime, anywhere."

The myPay Solutions app is available for free from the Apple App Store and Android

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

© 2024 Firmworks, LLC. All rights reserved