Sage North America today used the Sage Summit 2012 Conference in Nashville, TN, as the stage for announcing the recipients of its Sage Development Partner Awards for 2012, recognizing partners supporting customers across the Sage portfolio. The Endorsed and OEM Development Partners of the Year and Gold Development Partners of the Year for 2012 are chosen by Sage business partners and Sage business leaders. Sage awarded honors to Sage development partners who have:

- Successfully delivered solutions that best fit customer and market needs.
- Actively assisted the Sage channel in closing new Sage solution sales.
- Significantly helped Sage with customer retention.
- Maintained a solid reputation for customer satisfaction.

"We congratulate our Development Partner Award winners, who've effectively continued our mission to answer customer needs with products and services that make it easier for them to manage and grow their business," commented Vasu Desikachary, sr. director of strategic alliances.
