

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

Taija Sparkman • Sep. 12, 2012

CCH Tax Briefing

CCH
a Wolters Kluwer business

2012 Tax Policies Of The Major Presidential Candidates

September 11, 2012 Special Report

HIGHLIGHTS

- 2013, 2014 And Beyond
- Individual Income Tax Rates
- Capital Gains And Dividends
- Targeted Deductions
- Federal Estate Tax

Presidential Candidates Outline Tax Policies

On November 6, 2012, Americans will elect the occupant of the White House for the next four years. As President of the United States, he will play a major role shaping tax policy and possibly reforming the entire Tax Code. This special CCH Briefing describes the tax to address short-term issues such as sunset-ting provisions and long-term issues like tax reform, remains to be seen.

CAUTION. Between the date of publication of this special CCH Briefing and election day, November 6, 2012, the CCH, a Wolters Kluwer business, provider of tax, accounting and audit software, has announced the release of its latest Special Tax Briefing, which analyzes the tax positions of both candidates for President and their potential impact on the future.

CCH's Special Tax Briefing: 2012 Tax Policies of the Major Presidential Candidates describes President Barack Obama's tax policies and former Governor Mitt Romney's tax policies while taking a look at how the entire Tax Code could get reformed.

"The uncertainties facing taxpayers in 2013 are almost unprecedented in scope," said CCH Principal Federal Tax Analyst, Mark Luscombe, JD, LLM, CPA. "With a combination of potential major events, including what many refer to as 'taxmageddon' and the 'fiscal cliff,' and the scheduled sunseting of Bush-era tax cuts on December 31, 2012, the winner of the November presidential election and his tax

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

(NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors.

© 2024 Firmworks, LLC. All rights reserved