Dedicated to keeping the profession up-to-date and informed on new technologies as they hit the market, I want to announce the latest major update of Beyond415—a leading web-based post-filing solution.

The developers of the application, New River Innovation, recently announced the release of Beyond415 TeamWork. Developed with large firms in mind, TeamWork allows firm experts to share their knowledge by adding unique processes to the application's extensive guidance database and creating custom templates and document sets.

New River Innovation co-founder, Jim Buttonow, CPA and IRS practice and procedure expert stated, "TeamWork offers all the functionality and features of Beyond415, with added options such as the ability to standardize processes across the firm and build in guidance and workflows specific to the firm. Firm experts can share their expertise with multiple staff members, allowing other professionals to handle post-filing work with confidence."

Enhancements to the solution include expanded issue guidance, the ability to add custom guidance, an iPhone app, and much more. For more information on Beyond415 TeamWork visit beyond415.com/products/index/teamwork.
