updates include improved features for importing data from Excel, backing up data and correcting forms onscreen.

Basic System Functions: 4.5 Stars

Tax-Mate Advisor provides complete management, filing and printing capabilities for accounting firms managing multiple clients. The software supports unlimited payers with multiple recipients and can be used concurrently by firm staff. The home screen layout is simple and user-friendly, making it easy to add and select payers and forms. It also features a five-step Quick Start Guide for new users.

When a user selects a form, the form displays with either a blank data entry screen or the most recently completed recipient form. The screen displays four tabs for payer, recipient, amounts and a form view. Data entered in the first three tabs automatically populates on the form in the fourth tab. Likewise, data entered directly into the form view will automatically populate the corresponding data entry fields on the previous three tabs.

Tax-Mate's printing options allow users to print on plain paper or pre-printed forms. It also supports electronic filing with the IRS and SSA.

Reporting: 4.25 Stars

Tax-Mate 1099 Advisor supports all 1099 and 1098 forms, W-2, W-2C, W-2G, 5498, W-3 and 1096 forms. Tax-Mate also verifies TINS and checks for errors, allowing users to make the necessary corrections. The 2012 version gives users greater flexibility in choosing which forms to submit to the IRS and allows users to preview forms onscreen before printing. Users can also choose which copies to print.

Tax-Mate supports batch printing of forms, allowing staff to choose to print specific forms for individual or multiple clients simultaneously. All forms and data can be exported to Excel or saved in PDF format. Users can also print coversheets, form
