CCH, a Wolters Kluwer business, announced today the release of its new CCH Code & Regs 2013 App for Apple and Android mobile devices. CCH provides tax, accounting and audit information, software and services to tax and accounting professionals.

The new app provides real-time updates of the Internal Revenue Code and Federal Tax Regulations. Users can retrieve the most up-to-date version from their mobile device and even view final, temporary and proposed regulations. The latest amendments and history notes are also available through the app.

“With the myriad of tax law changes coming from recent negotiations to avoid the fiscal cliff, the CCH Code and Regs App is the perfect tool for monitoring the latest developments so professionals can keep up to date on the ever changing rules impacting tax law, even while visiting a client,” said Cindy Kaplan, CCH Product Marketing Manager.

Other features of the app include keyword search and browsing capabilities. Users can also email documents from the app and access documents and searches they recently accessed. The app also features a full hyperlink capability between the Code and Regulations.
