helps tax and accounting professionals perform routine tasks from anywhere on their Apple iPhones.

Jul. 23, 2013

Thomson Reuters has released Checkpoint Pocket Assistant, a new mobile app that helps tax and accounting professionals perform routine tasks from anywhere on their Apple iPhones. The app serves as a hub for additional apps available for download, including commonly used reference information and calculations. The Checkpoint Pocket Assistant is available to download from the Apple App Store at no cost.

“Our Pocket Assistant is another example of our commitment to helping our customers increase their productivity and efficiency so they can spend more time on strategic planning and business development,” said Steve Zelman, senior vice president of Checkpoint Platforms, Thomson Reuters. “These apps further expand our mobile research offerings which include: Thomson Reuters Checkpoint for tablets and smart phones, Thomson Reuters ProView eBooks for tablets, and now our Checkpoint Pocket Assistant apps for iPhones.”

New apps available through Checkpoint Pocket Assistant include:

- 2013 Tax Rate Guide — lists key federal income, gift, and estate tax rates. (Included at no cost.)
- COLA Profit-Sharing Plans — displays pension and profit-sharing plan dollar limitations reflecting cost-of living adjustments as of 2013. (Included at no cost.)
- Like Kind Exchange Calculator — quickly determines the realized gain, recognized gain, and basis of the like-kind property received for most like-kind exchanges, including exchanges of real estate or property that is held for business
