Commercial Logic announced the release of a new version of TrakTime Central for QuickBooks. TrakTime Central 2013 features new reporting options and now supports QuickBooks Enterprise in addition to QuickBooks Pro and Premier. Commercial Logic is a licensed QB developer and provides software solutions and consulting services to small practices and top 100 accounting firms in North America.

TrakTime Central for QuickBooks is designed to deliver the same efficiency of TrakTime Timesheet to smaller firms. The software retrieves clients, projects, staff and item codes directly from QuickBooks and allows users to analyze work in progress and create bills that automatically become receivables in QuickBooks. The new reporting tab displays several reports in pivot table format and exports them to Excel. TrakDate for TrakTime Central 2013 allows users to track projects by due date.

“Here at Commercial Logic we keep looking for ways to make life easier and work to flow more smoothly for the end user,” said Peter D. Coburn, President, Commercial Logic.
