of the Financial Accounting Standards Board's FASB Accounting Standards Codification, the single, authoritative source of U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (U.S. GAAP) for public and private companies and not-for-profit organizations.

Jan. 21, 2014

The Financial Accounting Foundation (FAF) has released an updated print edition of the Financial Accounting Standards Board's FASB Accounting Standards Codification, the single, authoritative source of U.S. Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (U.S. GAAP) for public and private companies and not-for-profit organizations.

The new four-volume bound edition of the FASB Codification contains all of the content of the online Codification as of October 31, 2013.

The annual bound edition of the Codification is intended to be used as a reference tool in conjunction with the always-current online Codification available at <https://asc.fasb.org/>.

This edition includes an alphabetical listing of all the Topics referenced in the FASB Codification—with their related starting page numbers—at the beginning of each volume, for more effective use.

The Codification is presented in four volumes, as follows:

- Volume 1 includes the Notice to Constituents, which provides information to aid in understanding the topical structure, content, style, and history of the FASB Codification. Volume 1 also contains standards relating to General Principles (Topic 105), Presentation (Topics 205 through 280), Assets (Topics 305 through 360), Liabilities (Topics 405 through 480), and Equity (Topic 505).

- Volume 2 includes standards relating to Revenue (Topic 605), Expenses (Topics
