Cheque-Mate International is the software arm of a payroll service bureau that developed its own payroll management more than 30 years ago. Since then, the Insta-Pay system has been used by hundreds of accounting firms and other payroll professionals, providing support for all states, direct deposit, benefits tracking, and electronic and paper-based compliance functions. For our review, Insta-Pay is considered a "Full-Service" system, providing tools and features for managing any number of employer payrolls, with the professional firm handling all aspects of payroll production, electronic payment processing and compliance tracking and reporting.

BASIC SYSTEM FUNCTIONS

The Insta-Pay system is designed for professionals managing multiple employer clients and uses a unique client list that appears at startup or when selecting clients, providing search functions by company name and ID. But it might be less than ideal for very large client bases, although the system can support any number of employer entities with any number of employees each. It does not support the new Windows 7 platform. Multiple users can access the program concurrently, but not within the same client files. During initial setup of company data, the program offers tabbed access to basic information, tax data, billing defaults, check printing, tax forms, EFT and deductions. Employee screens offer similar tabbed data-entry workspaces, with the ability to manage multiple states per employee. Pricing is based on the number of employer payrolls managed through the system, regardless of the number of ability to view and enter multiple staff timesheets on the same screen.

Insta-Pay includes tax tables for all states, as well as all federal and state wage and hiring reports and forms with the ability to print to plain paper. It does not provide local rate tables or compliance tools. The program supports direct deposit, and the service bureau receives its own EFTPS batch filing ID with the ability to disburse funds into any number of employee bank accounts. Employees can have unlimited pre- and post-tax deductions, and the program offers tools for managing paid time off accruals; workers' comp; and pension, medical and flexible spending accounts. Additional tools include after-the-fact payroll capabilities and net-to-gross calculations. 4.5

REPORTING & MONITORING

The system's functions for tracking reporting due dates and other deadlines are on an individual client basis, with no dashboard overview or alert capabilities. The wage and hire reporting functions in Insta-Pay include options for paper-based and electronic filing to states that accept it, including print coupons for states with additional reporting requirements. EFTPS is also available for payment of federal and state tax payments. W-2 and 1099 generation and printing is included, with the ability to print most reports to plain or pre-printed stock, and the ability to add logos or electronic signatures on MICR checks. Managerial reporting includes registers, wage summaries, liabilities, departmental and accruals, with limited customization capabilities offered by the report writer. Employee management screens provide tab-based individual staff monitoring. 4

INTEGRATION/IMPORT & EXPORT

Insta-Pay provides a QuickBooks export function and can import from most time clock systems, but the program does not integrate with other small business management systems or allow export of reports into common file formats other than

SUMMARY & PRICING

The Insta-Pay system provides the essentials for professionals who might be considering payroll services to a large client base of dozens or more employers.
