Citrix has completed its acquisition of RightSignature, a leading cloud-based electronic signature company located in Santa Barbara, Calif. RightSignature, which integrates with Citrix ShareFile, provides a simple way to get documents signed electronically, helping customers to digitize documents, automate processes and go paperless.

Building on the popularity of the joint ShareFile and RightSignature solution released last year, the acquisition enables Citrix to extend its ShareFile product line to include e-signature. With RightSignature, Citrix continues to add services that allow customers to work better together from anywhere by enabling a critical part of the document workflow in the many industries that require signatures such as accounting, financial services, healthcare and insurance.

"Our customers' most important documents are often those that require signatures," culture as Citrix, making Citrix the perfect home as we accelerate RightSignature's growth."

The RightSignature team will join the Citrix organization immediately. The terms of the acquisition were not disclosed.
