LedgerDocs, a developer of cloud-based workflow and accounting processes for professionals and businesses, has launched a newly redesigned website.

The developers said that the intent was to better showcase the LedgerDocs application and to give our users a hub where they can find the latest news and information relating to the cloud accounting industry.

New features include:

- An updated responsive design for a better browsing experience on tablet and mobile devices.
- New pricing pages for businesses and accountants/bookkeepers.
- A new feature to create your own price plan from our pricing pages.
- An updated common questions section based on feedback from our customers.

- A new features overview page to easily navigate to tools that are most important to
