CCHGroup.com

CCH Axxess Mobile Solutions are truly an innovation in the field of Tax and Accounting software. These products include the professional facing application—CCH Axxess— which provides firms with access to key client, firm and staff information anywhere, anytime. Also available is a “client facing” application — CCH Client Axxess — that allows the client to send files to or receive files from the tax professional.

What differentiates these apps is Wolters Kluwer’s use of the ‘responsive design’ approach. This provides users with the ability to choose their device of choice — be it an Apple iPhone, an Android tablet, or even one of the leading browsers on a laptop or desktop computer. The responsive interface is intelligent enough to recognize the device being used and optimize how the features and functions are displayed and accessed.

The professional-facing CCH Axxess Mobile Solutions app provides quick access to critical client information. This allows tax and accounting professionals to be more productive, even when they’re on the go or away from the office. Professionals always have access client contact information such as phones numbers, e-mails and street addresses, as well as client notes, staff data, and client contacts. Users can call, text or even view maps with ease. CCH Axxess Mobile Solutions also provide quick
