Greatland, a provider of W-2 and 1099 products for businesses, has acquired Irvine, Calif.-based NewportWave, a company specializing in W-2 and 1099 software and support.

With nearly 25 years in business, NewportWave built its reputation by making electronic filing easier and more manageable for banks and small to mid-size businesses.

“NewportWave’s current products and customer base provide the Greatland team with a solid platform and the potential to grow relationships with existing customers,” said Robert Nault, Greatland CEO. “We look forward to helping small to mid-size businesses ease the stress associated with year-end reporting by introducing them to Greatland’s Yearli software.”

The NewportWave brand was acquired by Greatland, and within the year, NewportWave’s customers will be transitioned to the desktop version of Greatland’s Yearli software. Yearli offers the most complete federal, state and recipient W-2 and
