week's calendar. These updates happen routinely at night so the calendar is ready for everyone the next day.

“In every firm there are employees with different proficiency levels, experience, specializations and client relationships. All these attributes should contribute to assignment decisions. However, if a firm is doing manual scheduling it's practically impossible to take all of these factors into account when more than a few resources are involved. Most workflow scheduling solutions don't even reschedule based upon changing circumstances and no other workflow scheduling software even attempts to optimize schedules based on employee characteristics,” said Cornfield.

“WORKFLOW 2.0 captures the innate knowledge a firm has about its staff and their capabilities and delivers the best possible schedule every day with what needs to be done and who are the best people to do it.”
