accounting process and encourages bookkeepers and accountants to thrive in an internet and mobile economy,” said Wayne Zielke, Founder and CEO.

The integration with QuickBooks Online allows for users to create transactions, including bills, expenses, and invoices, which are posted directly to QuickBooks from LedgerDocs. This is done using a very simple and intuitive user interface that works right out of the box. Once the transaction has been posted, the source document is linked to the transaction in QuickBooks which is particularly useful for audit purposes or for looking up source transactions — and it's all done securely in the cloud.

“We are excited about being on Apps.com and working further with QuickBooks Online because we feel that LedgerDocs adds a whole new level to an app that has already revolutionized the bookkeeping industry for years,” says Zielke.
