“Companies are not realizing the full benefits of the tax credits and incentives to which they are entitled,” said Alan Cohen, vice president of international markets with the Tax & Accounting business of Thomson Reuters. “This solution offers guidance for businesses operating in global jurisdictions, as well as those looking to expand or relocate by providing important, hard-to-find resources to take advantage of available incentives around the globe.”

Credits & Incentives Pinpointer: International covers more than 20 credit types available in close to 60 countries. Some of the key features include:

- Coverage of the most hard-to-find tax credits and incentives information, all aggregated in one place.
- Essential summary information displayed in an easy-to-read table view and the option to sort findings by country or tax credits.
- A summary table view which compares credits and tax saving opportunities across multiple jurisdictions.
- Additional coverage including potential value from the credits, eligibility requirements, statute references, and links to the statutes online for in-depth research for select jurisdictions.
