

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us week, where he was speaking at the kick off of Advance, a new OSCPA program which explores challenges and trends in today's increasingly global business environment.

Apr. 25, 2016

Ohio's Secretary of State Jon Husted publicly thanked the Ohio Society of CPAs for their their role in helping to drive business in every industry in Ohio.

Husted joined joined Scott Wiley, CAE, president and CEO of OSCPA in Akron last week, where he was speaking at the kick off of Advance, a new OSCPA program which explores challenges and trends in today's increasingly global business environment.

Each month, the Ohio Secretary of State profiles a different industry or profession for its role in driving a more positive business climate in Ohio. April's campaign, By the

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

Topics will include:

- Talent management and generational issues and the impact to organizations
- Capitalizing on the shifting business landscape
- Trends in the accounting profession
- Leveraging technology to enhance productivity and collaboration

“In today’s world, disruption is the new reality,” Wiley said. “CPAs are working with companies across Ohio to develop new strategies to grow Ohio’s businesses. We appreciate Sec. Husted’s recognition that CPAs are vital partners in this process.”

For more information on the Advance program, click here.

The Ohio Society of CPAs is a leading partner and influential voice for a thriving business environment. We empower Ohio’s 30,000 CPAs and financial professionals to drive value as trusted business advisors by advancing advocacy and education programs that strengthen Ohio’s tax and business climate and make our state a friendlier place to live and do business.

Firm Management • Taxes • Technology

CPA Practice Advisor is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors.

