If you know someone deserving of this recognition, please let us know. (Multiple nominations do not increase an individual's likelihood of being selected.) There are no costs involved in the program, either for the person making the nomination, or for the person being nominated, regardless of if they are selected. The deadline for nominations is July 8, 2016.

Nominations are open for this prestigious recognition. Here are the rules and expectations:

- Candidates should be working in the accounting field (public, private, tax preparation, consulting, academia, government) and have not turned 40 as of August 31, 2016. (Please note that candidates who are employed by a vendor serving the accounting profession are also eligible for nomination and will be considered for a separate, Changing Our Profession commendation).
- Candidates can nominate themselves, or can be nominated by their peers, their colleagues, and their fellow professionals in the accounting profession.
- Candidates should have achieved a recognizable level of success and record of achievement.
- Candidates should be people who are likely to remain in the profession and continue to build on their achievements.
- Candidates should have demonstrated accomplishments off the job as well as on the job, in such areas as community and civic involvement, mentoring, volunteering, board membership, and so on.
- Candidates should be energetic, ambitious, innovative, the types of people who stretch boundaries.
- Candidates should demonstrate superior, game-changing work performance by utilizing, embracing, and perhaps introducing new processes, technologies, solutions to existing procedures.

- Candidates should be the people who help others, the best and the brightest, the
