

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us auditor, was recently elected president of the Foundation for Accounting Education's (FAE) Board of Trustees.

Jun. 22, 2016

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

David Evangelista, CPA, a nationally-known employee benefit plans advisor and

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

(NYSSCPA), the nation's first and one of its largest associations for certified public accountants. FAE offers a variety of online and on-site learning seminars and conferences in addition to monthly technical sessions.

The Foundation's 12 trustees typically meet four times a year, approve the annual operating budget, set the education-policy directives and oversee the Moynihan Fund, which awards scholarships for college students. The Moynihan Fund also provides funding for the Career Opportunities in the Accounting Profession program, a unique learning experience developed to expose promising underrepresented minority high school students to accounting and business careers.

Evangelista, a 1984 graduate – with a Bachelor of Science degree in Economics, concentration in Accounting – from The Wharton School of the University of Pennsylvania, has more than 30 years' experience advising and auditing ERISA (Employee Retirement Income Security Act) benefit plans.

He joined MSPC as a principal in January 2008, where his responsibilities include management and supervision of audit, accounting and tax clients in the public and private sector, including Employee Benefit Plans, Labor Unions, Non-Profit Organizations, Individuals, Corporations and Partnerships. Mr. Evangelista also leads MSPC's Litigation Support, Forensic & Fraud practice.

After a 2008 appointment by former U.S. Secretary of Labor Elaine L. Chao during President George W. Bush's administration, Evangelista served three years on the DOL's Advisory Council on Employee Welfare and Pension Benefit Plans, also known as the ERISA Advisory Council.

Since joining the New York State Society of CPAs in 1988, he has served the organization in a number of different positions, including as a trustee for its CPA

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

Employee Benefit Plan (EBP) Audit Quality Center, established by the AICPA to improve the overall quality of Employee Benefit Plan audits; and the International Foundation of Employee Benefit Plans (IFEBP), where he currently serves as an advisory director to its Board of Directors and has held numerous other leadership positions related to his expertise.

He resides in Stony Point, N.Y. with his wife, Margret Jonsson Evangelista, an attorney in private practice, and their two children.

Accounting • Advisory • Auditing

CPA Practice Advisor is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors.

© 2024 Firmworks, LLC. All rights reserved