XCM Solutions, LLC has been named as the 2016 Productivity and Risk Mitigation Award Winners. The annual awards are chosen from the results of the 3rd Annual Accounting Firm Operation and Technology Survey measuring the company's products that have the greatest impact on their practice in the areas of productivity, profitability, and risk mitigation.

XCM is a provider of productivity enablement and workflow solutions for tax, accounting and finance professionals. The survey, conducted by Randy Johnston, Chairman and CEO, Network Management Group, Inc., and Leslie Garrett, PhD, CEO of Insight Research Group, highlights technologies being used by the most successful accounting firms. An eBook of the survey results is also available, published in cooperation with Rick Telberg, President and CEO of CPA Trendlines.

"We are honored that XCM Workflow has been selected by firms to have the greatest impact on the productivity and risk mitigation areas of firms. With XCM's Productivity Enablement Platform you can achieve higher levels of professional productivity at every level of your firm," said Mark Albrecht, CEO XCM Solutions. "Our unique set of solutions was built to deliver greater control over processes that are critical to delivering higher value to clients and visibility to all partners and staff to minimize and manage risk throughout the firm."
