TSheets, a maker of scheduling and time tracking software, has announced an integration and global partnership with global cloud accounting software company, Xero. TSheets and Xero will work together to simplify the lives of accountants, bookkeepers, and small business owners spanning multiple industries on a global scale.

This integration will improve the way small and medium sized businesses operate by saving them time and money on payroll, invoicing and billing.

“Adding more integrations has been one of our most popular requests from accountants, bookkeepers and customers. We listened and, as evidenced with our newest partnership with Xero, have officially become an open ecosystem,” said Matt Rissell, co-founder and CEO of TSheets. “We have dedicated significant engineering resources to build a world-class integration between our two products.”

Founded in 2006, Xero is one of the fastest growing Software-as-a-Service companies worldwide. In fact, for the past two years, Forbes has identified Xero as the World's Most Innovative Growth Company. With more than 1,300 employees in 20 offices around the globe, Xero is on a mission to change the business landscape for small business owners, accountants, and bookkeepers alike. They offer cloud-based accounting software that serves to connect people with the right numbers anytime, anywhere, on any device.

“Small businesses are the heart of the global economy,” adds Xero US President Russ Fujioka. “We want small businesses to thrive through the use of better tools, information, and connections — but we can't do it alone. Partnering with TSheets
