The enhanced offering consists of two applications, Thomson Reuters ONESOURCE AEOI Documentation, which focuses on the tax form validation and documentation needed for FATCA and CRS customer diligence, and Thomson Reuters ONESOURCE AEOI Reporting, which offers a global, multi-jurisdictional reporting engine.

Key features of the enhanced solution include:

- CRS-specific content with the addition of the OECD CRS schema to provide customers with the most up-to-date regulatory information.
- Country-specific updates to the schemas to support CRS for the United Kingdom, Netherlands, Finland and Norway, with more jurisdictions to come shortly across the Americas, Europe, Africa, and Asia Pacific.
- Support for multiple filing regimes per financial institution to allow for ease of filing in a multitude of countries.

ONESOURCE AEOI currently covers over 175 jurisdictions for FATCA reporting and early adopter countries that have been published for CRS. It easily integrates with any organization's existing process to ensure seamless workflow and delivery. For more information, visit: <https://tax.thomsonreuters.com/aeoi/>.
