

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us hybrid online and on-campus Master of Taxation program, is no exception.

Dec. 29, 2016

Portland State University's (PSU) School of Business Administration (SBA) is known for innovation and its collaboration with the business community. Its latest venture, a hybrid online and on-campus Master of Taxation program, is no exception.

"We saw that the demand for professionals with advanced tax knowledge is soaring in the United States, so we created a program uniquely designed to give graduates an edge," said Nancy Ganong Neslund, J.D., LL.M., master of tax director at PSU.

"Program coursework is online with quarterly on-campus meetings for greater flexibility. We also co-developed coursework with public accounting and corporate tax leaders, and designed it specifically for working business professionals in tax or

Hello. It looks like you're using an ad blocker that may prevent our website from working properly. To receive the best experience possible, please make sure any blockers are switched off and refresh the page.

If you have any questions or need help you can email us

“Our students will be closely engaged with faculty who have extensive tax experience. They’ll also have access to a network employers who consistently recruit PSU graduates.” said Neslund. “The program is also designed to allow students to interact with high profile tax professionals.”

Timeline

With an official start date set for summer 2017 term, students are already signing up for the 12-month MT program. During the program, 1:1 advising and career preparation tools will help students define the next steps in their careers.

Portland State University’s School of Business Administration is renowned for its leading-edge research and world-class faculty. Located in heart of Portland, Oregon, this urban campus takes a realistic and holistic approach to learning with a focus on sustainability, economic impact, and social and environmental stewardship. PSU’s SBA offers eight master’s degrees, seven undergraduate concentrations, four minors, and multiple certificate programs, all with real-world applicability. US News & World Report ranks its AACSB-accredited undergraduate and graduate business programs among the best in the nation. The Princeton Review recognizes the School as a “Best College” to major in business. For more information, please visit: pdx.edu/sba.

CPA Practice Advisor is registered with the National Association of State Boards of Accountancy (NASBA) as a sponsor of continuing professional education on the National Registry of CPE Sponsors.